Jason Priestley FOX/Getty Images Brandon Walsh, Seasons 1-9 (Guest 10)Jason Priestley became a youth idol after the first season of Beverly Hills, 90210 when the network decided to air a special summer season. Now, 25 years after the series premiered, Priestley remained busy for a while as the star of the Canadian TV show Call Me Fitz that ended in 2013. He is also very involved in race cars and often shows up at competitions along that track. He married a make-up artist, Naomi Lowde, in 2005, and the couple have two children. In May 2014, Priestley published his autobiography, Jason Priestley: A Memoir. Shannen Doherty FOX/Getty Images Brenda Walsh, Season 1-4After the fourth season, Doherty's Brenda Walsh left the world's most famous postcode for London to spend a year studying at the Royal Academy for Dramatic Arts... Just, she never came back. Shannen Doherty, presumably because she's going to be the co-star of hell, never got back to 90210 until 2008 when she appeared in the spin-off. Since her time on the show, she played the series Charmed, which was also produced by Aaron Spelling, but eventually again because of cast conflicts as well. She has also appeared in tons of reality shows, made for TV movies, and failed TV shows, especially: Dancing With The Stars, The New Normal (as Brenda Walsh), and will reprise her 1995 Mallrats role for the upcoming sequel. In 2011, Doherty married her third husband, Kurt Iswarienko. Jennie Garth FOX/Getty Images Kelly Taylor, Seasons 1-10Sinthen Beverly Hills, 90210, the fabulous Jennie Garth has starred in the hit series What I Like About You, 90210, and the just-canceled Mystery Girls (also starring Tori Spelling). She also competed in the fifth season of Dancing With The Stars and made it all the way to the semi-finals. In 2013, Garth divorced her husband of 12 years and the father of her three daughters, Peter Facinelli. But in April 2015, Garth got engaged to actor David Abrams, whom she met on a blind date. the article continues under the ad Ian Ziering FOX/IMDB Steve Sanders, Season 1-10 Since his days as Steve Sanders, Ziering has gone on to compete in the semifinals of Dancing With The Stars season 4, as well as appearing on Celebrity Apprentice and winning more awards for his film work. He auditioned to become the new host of The Price is Right in 2007, but eventually lost to Drew Carey. Most recently, he has appeared as Fin in Sharknado and the sequel. In 2010, Ziering married his second wife, Erin Kristine Ludwig, with whom he has two children. She left the show in 1995 to host her own short-lived talk show, Gabrielle. She continued to return to the series and also went on to make a number of TV and made for TV movies In 2013, Carteris was elected executive vice president of SAG-AFTRA after the merger of The Screen Actors' Guild and AFTRA (American Federation of Television and Radio Artists). She has been married to Charles Isaacs, a stockbroker, since 1992. Luke Perry FOX/Getty Images Dylan McKay, Season 1-6, 10Perry quickly found himself a teen idol after being cast as the brooding Dylan McKay at Beverly Hills, 90210. Early on during the show, he got a role in the film version of Buffy the Vampire Slayer, and eventually left the show. During his time away from the series, he had a number of film roles, including a small role in The Fifth Element, before returning to the series for good. Since then, Perry has had plenty of roles, including parts on: The Simpsons, What I Like About You, Community, Family Guy, Oz (where he went full frontal, hubba hubba), John from Cincinnati, Jeremiah, Sin City, Will & Grace, Law & Order: SVU, Criminal Minds and Raising Hope. He has also performed on Broadway and on stage in London. In 2003, he divorced his wife of 10 years, Minnie Sharp, with whom he had two children. Green has had guest roles on almost every TV show imaginable - Growing Pains, The Twilight Zone, Smallville, just to name a few - and bigger roles on Terminator: Sarah Connor Chronicles, Desperate Housewives, and most recently FX's Anger Management. Green began dating Transformers actress Megan Fox in 2004 and eventually married her in 2010. In 2009, Green and Fox were burglarized in the robberies that became known as the Bling Ring. The couple have two sons together, and they also raise Green's son from their relationship with 90210 co-star Vanessa Marcil. Tori Spelling FOX/Getty Images Donna Martin, Seasons 1-10After reigning supreme as Donna Martin for the entire course of Beverly Hills, 90210, the show her father produced, Tori Spelling appeared on the sitcom So Notorious as a parody of herself, reprised Donna Martin for the 90210 remake, and joined Jennie Garth on short-lived Mystery Girls. She has also appeared on reality TV for years with her husband, Dean, as part of the Tori & Dean series (now only True Tori). She and Dean McDermott have been married since 2006; They married less than a month after Spelling's divorce from her first husband, Charlie Shanian (m.2004-2006), was final. She and Dean have four children together. Tori Spelling has also written an impressive six books: The New York Times bestseller, STORI TELLING (2008), as well as Mommywood (2009), UNCHARTED TERRITORI (2010), Presenting Tallulah (2010, a picture book), CelebraTORI (2012) and Spelling It Like It Is (2013). Tiffani Thiessen FOX/Facebook article continues ad Carol Potter FOX/Getty Images Cindy Walsh, Seasons 1-5 (Guest 6.8)When Brandon and Brenda's parents, Jim and Cindy Walsh, left Beverly Hills for Hong Kong after Season 5, we were a little sad, but it had to happen. Luckily for Carol Potter, she landed the role in Sunset Beach, which she starred in for 136 episodes. Since then, she has guest-starred on NYPD Blue, Crossing Jordan, Greek and most recently, Medium. James Eckhouse FOX/IMDB Jim Walsh, Seasons 1-5 (Guest 7-8)Eckhouse followed his time on the show with guest spots on shows such as Chicago Hope, Once and Again, Ally McBeal, Touched by an Angel, The West Wing, Judging Amy, Without a Trace, Boston Legal, Medium, Crossing Jordan, Nip/Tuck, Las Vegas, Criminal Minds, CSI, Harry's Law, The Good Wife, Days of Our Lives, Masters of Sex, and, most recently, Castle. He also starred in the Avengers in 2012 as Senator Roynton. Joe E. Tata FOX/Getty Images Nat Bussichio, Season 1-10Tata's only credits after leaving the series are exactly what you hope they would be: Charmed with Shannen Doherty, the 90210 reboot, and Mystery Girls with Jennie Garth and Tori Spelling. Just like Nat would! The article continues under the ad Douglas Emerson FOX/Facebook Scott Scanlon, Seasons 1-2After Emerson's character was killed off the show in Season 2, he went to junior college and eventually transferred to Pepperdine University, where he met his wife, Emily Barth. They left in 1996 after Emerson left college to join the U.S. Air Force. He won various awards for planning missions in the Kosovo War in 1999 before leaving the Air Force in 2003. Emerson now lives in Colorado with his wife and their two daughters. Damon Espinoza FOX/IMDB Jesse Vasquez, Season 4-5Espinoza followed his time of 90210 with small roles on shows such as Married with Children, NYPD Blue, Caroline in the City, Nip/Tuck, NCIS, House, Parenthood and Private Practice. He also appeared on American Horror Story: Asylum and Scandal as chairman of the Joint Chiefs. Kathleen Robertson FOX/Getty Images Clare Arnold, Seasons 4-7Has already spent most of the 90s on TELEVISION in Canada. Kathleen Robertson decided not to renew her 90210 contract to pursue film work. After leaving 90210, Robertson went on to star in a number of films, including Scary Movie 2 with co-star Tori Spelling, XX/XY, Nowhere with Shannen Doherty and Hollywoodland. She has also appeared on TV over the years after the show: Girls Club, The Business and Boss. Most recently, she has appeared on TV shows Murder in the First and Bates Motel. She married her husband, Chris Cowles, in 2004, and in 2008 the couple welcomed a son. The article continues under the ad Jamie Walters FOX/Jamie Walters Ray Pruitt, Seasons 5-6 (Guest 7)Walters met and began working with Aaron Spelling on Fox's The Heights, which was canceled but launched Walters' music career. He sang the theme song How Do You Talk To An Angel?, which earned him an Emmy nomination. created the role of Ray Pruitt specifically for Walters, but he left the show to focus on his music career. After the show, in 1997, Walters' second album, Ride, was certified gold. His third album, Believed, followed in 2002 before becoming a firefighter/paramedic with the Los Angeles County Fire Department. He met his wife, Patty, in a hospital while they were both working as EMTs and married in 2002. He and Patty have three daughters, and he also has a son from a previous relationship. In 2009, he appeared on Vh1's Confessions of a Teen Idol. Hilary Swank FOX/Instagram Carly Reynolds, Season 8Swank first signed on to a two-year contract with Beverly Hills, 90210, but was printed after just 16 episodes because the producers felt her character was not resonating with the audience. Although she was devastated (If I'm not good enough for 90210, I'm not good enough for anything!), she managed to move on with her career. Fired from 90210 freed her to audition for the role of Brandon Teena in Boy's Don't Cry, which won Swank's first Oscar in 2000. She then went on to star in a number of films, including Clint Eastwood's Million Dollar Baby that earned her another Oscar. Insomniam, The Black Dahlia, Freedom Writers, PS. I Love You, Amelia, New Year's Eve, and most recently The Homesman. In 2007, Swank divorced her husband Chad Lowe, whom she had been married to for 10 years. She will appear next on the upcoming Alejandro González Iñárritu drama The One Percent. Vincent Young FOX/Getty Images Noah Hunter, Seasons 8-10Young has kept a pretty low profile since the iconic 90s show ended. He has guest-starred on CSI: NY and NCIS, as well as starring as Bud Lunger in Adult Film: A Hollywood Tale and Eagles in the Chicken Coop. Young also dated Tori Spelling, but the two called it quits shortly after the show was over. the article continues under the ad Lindsay Price FOX/Getty Images Janet Sosna, Seasons 8-10Following series finale. Price reprised her role on The Bold and the Beautiful in 2000 (and again in 2005, and again in 2009). She has appeared in a number of TV series, including Pepper Dennis opposite Rebecca Romijn, the British show Coupling and Lipstick Jungle. Most recently, she made an appearance on Black-ish. In 2007, she wrote and performed a five-song EP titled Someone Like Me. She married her first husband, the creator of the TV series The Dead Zone Shawn Piller, in 2004 before divorcing in 2007. In 2013, she married celebrity chef Curtis Stone, with whom she has two sons. In 2002 he starred in Van Wilder: Party Liaison as Richard Dick Bagg. He was also on In Justice and Dirty Sexy Money before they were cancelled, and now he's playing as Aiden Jennings on Days of Our Lives. In 1997, before he was on the show, he married wife Marie, with whom he had four children after the series ended.
